DECEMBER 15, 1911, NORWAY, MAINE.

Mrs. Chas. L. Hathaway.

Mrs. Clara Haskell (Dunham) Hathaway died at her home on Main street, Saturday morning, Dec. 9th, of heart trouble, aged 73 years, 3 months and 12 days.

She was the daughter of Bartimus and Matilda (Briggs) Dunham and was born in Bangor, Aug. 28, 1838. She attended the Bangor schools and was a graduate of Hebron Academy in 1864. She married Charles Lorenzo Hathaway in New Haven, Conn., March 25, 1864. With her husband she lived in Bangor, Norway, One son was born to them, Bartie D. Hathaway, Oct. 11, 1867. He died Aug. 25, 1876.

Besides her husband she is survived by a sister, Mrs. S. H. Lary of Athol, Mass.; three nephews, Fred F. Hall of Haverhill, Mass., Winfield L. Lary of Bangor, Mass., A. Frank Merle Hathaway of Manchester, N. H., and one niece, Clara Louise Hathaway of Norway. Miss Hathaway had been a member of the family and is a daughter.

Mrs. Hathaway was not a member of any religious order but has always identified herself with the Universalist church, where she has been a regular attendant and ardent worker. She was ever ready to help to do all good work. She spoke ill of no one.

Mrs. Hathaway enjoyed the beautiful and liked to have bright and pretty things about her, in her home, in her individual dress, in her room, everywhere. Flowers she was especially fond of. Their rich and harmonious colors appealed to her. She had a gracious and kindly presence. She appreciated to the fullest luxurious surroundings, for she liked things of value for their own sake. She was the life of any company where she might be present.

She had traveled quite extensively and Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway have for several winters spent the months of the coldest weather in the South. Last winter they were in Havana. "The people I met and the places I saw give me something to think about after I get home," she remarked after her return last spring. She had seemingly everything to live for and she had the happy faculty of enjoying what she had and making the best of everything.

Mrs. Hathaway was a member of the Silver Gray and the Roundabout Whist clubs, the Eastern Star and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Members of these societies attended her funeral.

The funeral was held from her home, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Merrill C. Ward spoke comforting words to the living and eulogistic words for the dead one, so peacefully resting on her burial couch, clothed in pure white and surrounded by quantities of flowers from many friends. Charles F. Riddon, Howard D. Smith, Henry B. Foster and Charles H. Sargent were the bearers. Interment in Pine Grove.

Shoe Last and Rook Maple Wood.

Chas. F. Partridge of Rochester, N. Y., called on relatives here this week. He is a son of the late Chas. W. Partridge of Norway Lake. He left home to strike out for himself about 27 years ago.

He has been engaged in the manufacture of lasts in Rochester for the past dozen years or more and a good deal of the time has been on the road, selling the product of their factory. He left the road about a year ago to attend to the office management of sales and purchases.

About a year ago the Rochester Last Manufacturers, of which he is the controlling spirit purchased the Flitz Bros. last business of Auburn paying about $200,000 for it. This purchase brings Mr. Partridge this way often and he manages to visit his home folks.

At their factories they employ at the present time 190 men and are putting in more machinery to increase the output. Some two thousand lasts per day are made.

A large part of the wood from which the lasts are made come from the forests of Northern New York. Rook maple is principally used and some basswood.

The Auburn shop is supplied with "block" from this section and Messrs. Partridge is now looking for some place where they can get a constant supply of rook maple. Canada has been suggested but they prefer to buy it in the United States.

Lighter Steamship for Lower Lake.

Col. M. W. Sampson, superintendent, manager and owner of the Penneusee was Lake Steamship Line, is having a lighter built by Clarence E. Coffin, which will fly between city wharf and a Crockett bridge in 16 feet propelled by a Hartford engine. The boat is designed to keep the cylinders cool.

Contractor Coffin has its construction well under way and there will be a launching in the early spring.

This Season's First Basket Ball.

The first basket ball in Norway this season will be held at Norway Opera House tonight (Friday, Dec. 15th).

There will be two games, Bridgton High School vs. Norway High School. The game will be followed by a dance. The game called at 8 o'clock. Music by Stearns' orchestra. Seats on sale at Stone's, Tuesday night.

Iva Russell is working at the telephone office.

Mrs. S. M. Swett of Mexico was the guest of her aunt Mrs. S. H. Wetherbee over Sunday.

It is expected when all the money gets in from the different departments of the Congregational fair that the net profit will not be far from $300.

The first selectman, George W. Holmes met with a rather mortifying accident Monday, yet to on-lookers it was decidedly ludicrous. As Mr. Holmes was passing down Main street with a goodly number of bundles in his arms, he came to the muddy stretch bridge and suddenly his feet slipped and he fell into the water.

He was not hurt and he was laughing at the mud. Of course no one laughed at him and he was laughing at the mud. He was laughing at the mud and he was laughing at the mud. He was laughing at the mud and he was laughing at the mud.

Along the Missouri.

"Along the Missouri" was presented at the Norway Opera House before a fair sized audience, Saturday evening, by the stage hands and ushers of the Opera House. The play was given for the benefit of William W. Twombly for his proficient work as caretaker of the Opera House for the past 10 years.

The play was given wholly by local talent and was exceptionally well presented. It was thought by some that one long as the play was to be presented wholly by local people and no professionals in the cast that it would not go very well, but whoever harbored this idea was pleasantly surprised as the play progressed and this notion was quickly dispelled. Charles S. Akers, who came before the audience before the last acts and thanked the people in the cast, in behalf of the manager, Ed. Burdell, and cast, made the remark that he had many times been to the Opera House to see professional players who did not begin to come up to the play which these young people were presenting, and this was the sentiment of the audience.

The part of William Watson was taken by Harold A. Anderson. He was a kind old man with a very genial air and when fortune showed its darker side he braved the situation, feeling all things would come out right.

John Watson, Raymond E. Brooks, a very slick appearing young man, was a candidate for the legislature, a man of integrity, and one determined to gain an honorable name among his fellowmen. His love affairs were sadly complicated and conspired against by the father of his fiancée.

Norwood Crane, Ed. L. Burnell, was the black man of the play. He was a scheming financier, to whose wife he meant to do wrong, and whose wife he meant to do wrong, and whose wife he meant to do wrong.

Dustin Barnes, W. Jas. Flanders, a man whom Crane had nearly ruined by using his influence in separating him and his wife, was weak and became a drunkard and a tramp, but assisted by friends and learning the truth of the situation, became a man of commanding position.

The funeral was held from her home, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Merrill C. Ward spoke comforting words to the living and eulogistic words for the dead one, so peacefully resting on her burial couch, clothed in pure white and surrounded by quantities of flowers from many friends. He was the son of Charles and Esther Herring (Crockett) Pike and was born in Norway in 1849. He was educated in the Norway schools and the Norway Liberal Institute.

He has always lived in Norway excepting one year when he worked in Jamaica Plain, Mass. He was a contractor and builder and has built many houses in Norway. His shop was near his house on Paris street.

In politics he was a republican. His religious associations were with the Congregationalists. He was a Knight in the Knights of Pythias.

H.; Mrs. Puritagon of Norway. Besides his wife and four children he leaves three grandchildren and two brothers, Mark A. Pike and Dennis Pike both of Norway.

He joined the Oxford Bear Engines Co. in 1890 and remained a member of the fire department until 1907. He was steward for thirty-three years and foreman of the Hook and Ladder Co. for a number of years.

Mr. Pike was a member of the Norway Band for twenty-eight years playing the piccolo.

He has been building inspector for five years. Horace Pike was a thorough workman at his trade. He built the Masonic building, the Abbott Block, Riddon's Store and a good many large buildings. He belonged to the Norway Militia for a number of years.

True-Scriber and Cobb-Cole.

On Thanksgiving Day occurred the wedding of a number of Norway's young people. Among these was the wedding of Harley D. True, son of Mrs. Carrie True and Mildred O. Scribner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Scribner. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. C. Ward at the parsonage at 9 o'clock a. m. The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of white silk. Her trailing dress was of dark gray with a white beaver hat.

After the ceremony was performed the bride and groom, with a large sign on the rear of the auto saying "We're just married," and went to South Paris and took the morning train for Portland, to attend the wedding of Benjamin Cobb and Mildred Cole.

Benjamin Cobb is the son of Mrs. Lill Cobb and Mildred Cole is the daughter of Mrs. Percy Cole and former resident in Norway where they attended the high school.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, 215 B Street at 4 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley True attended the bride and groom. The bride's dress was a very pretty blue silk, and her trailing dress was a navy blue and she wore a white beaver hat. The grooms wore the conventional black. The bride's dresses were both alike except in color, a fact which was unknown to each until the day of the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Cobb were the recipients of many pretty and useful articles. Both couples left Portland on the 5 o'clock boat for Boston, where they spent a week with friends in Boston, Dorchester, Lawrence and Haverhill, Mass.

A very pleasant reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Harley D. True at the home of his mother, Friday evening. About 35 intimate friends, relatives and acquaintances were present. The evening hours were pleasantly passed and the young people were the recipients of many congratulations and a goodly number of presents including money, silver, linen, china and a handsome water color painting from their shopmates. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, nuts and candy were served.

Mr. and Mrs. True will make their home at Mr. True's mother, Mrs. Carrie True at 5 School St.

The fancy table was located in the center of the hall and was tastefully decorated with overhead lattice work of red and white crepe paper, and streamers of the same colors centered at the chandelier. It was decorated at intervals with clusters of fir and red berries.

The table was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Drake assisted by Mrs. E. F. Hayden, Jennie Baker, Margaret Baker, Abbie Sampson, Mrs. T. P. Richardson, Mrs. W

Of Local Interest.

Some People We Know, and We Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Norway. Not in Buffalo or New York. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word; To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about, Endorsed by unknown people.

Otto Schuener, Main St., Norway, Maine, says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I consider this remedy an excellent one. Several years ago my kidneys became weak and my system was run down. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Stoe's Drug Store, cured me of the attack and I have taken them since then with good results."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908, and on July 17, 1911, Mr. Schuener said: "Doan's Kidney Pills still have my highest endorsement. The cure they effected three years ago has been permanent."

THE NORMAL DISTANCE

For reading or close work is twelve inches—that is, the object should be twelve inches from the eyes.

If you cannot see clearly at that distance—if you require exceptionally strong light, or a different focus—you should have your eyes examined by an optician.

The indications are that you need glasses, or a different prescription.

I fit glasses correctly—every lens individually ground.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is entirely harmless, and directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

When the houghs will break in blossoms as a flag is lifted up.

When the grass will rise and run with the laughter of the sun.

And the sky will seem to pour its wine from out a magic urn.

And we'll sing because of knowing all the songs the wind is blowing.

And the earth will be the gladder for the dreary days ago.

Then we'll catch the murmured words in the singing of the birds.

When the earth has rolled to springtime—just a little farther on.

For the good old earth it knows where the robins are and the rose.

Wait to set our hearts to leaping for the beauty of the day.

And it knows the neomance of the violets that dance.

To the music of the brooklet that once more is loosed in play.

And the forests flaming greener for their battle with the snows!

Then, we'll catch the melodies of its waking honey bees.

For the good old earth is rolling to the robin and the rose.

Through the action of the Sinking Fund, a ready market will at all times be available for the resale of this stock and provides for the redemption of the whole issue at the end of TWENTY YEARS, at One Hundred and Fifteen (115) Dollars per share.

The Old Colony Trust Company of Boston act as trustee for the protection of the Uswooca Mills Preferred stockholders.

The Sealar Concert.

The most pleasing event of the season took place, Thursday evening, at New Hall, South Paris, when Mlle. Sealar, the famous Opera singer, gave her first concert among her friends in her home town.

The hall was crowded to the doors and as Mlle. Sealar appeared on the stage dressed in a gown of emerald green with silver trimmings and touches of pink, and pink roses in her hair, the applause was intense. A hush came over the audience as the first number on the program was rendered and at once the singer and the audience were in harmony.

The audience was thoroughly delighted with Mlle. Sealar's magnificent "falcon" voice and every one was deeply impressed and in a degree could realize her wonderful successes abroad.

At the first intermission the singer was lavishly showered with bouquets of roses and chrysanthemums, and her appreciation to the hearty applause was very appropriately expressed in "Home, Sweet Home," with such feeling and expression as to impart the true meaning of the song to the hearts of her audience.

After the last number on the program, Tosti's "Good-bye," was sung, not one in the audience rose to leave and Mlle. Sealar playing her own accompaniment very sweetly sang "Annie Laurie."

Mrs. Cora S. Briggs accompanied the soloist on a grand concert Steinborth piano in a very praiseworthy manner.

The ushers were H. T. Briggs, Dr. F. W. Rounds, E. E. Shaw and N. J. Mixer. Mlle. Sealar was introduced to the audience by Thomas S. Barnes.

The addresses were direct and to the point and must be a means of help to those who attended.

The afternoon session was opened with prayer by Rev. B. C. Wentworth. H. E. Lufkin gave an address on "The biggest thing in Sunday School work." Rev. R. J. Bruce spoke on Sunday School organization, and there were remarks by Rev. B. C. Wentworth, Rev. E. A. Davis and D. L. Joslyn.

Secretary Lufkin gave the closing address on the Boy Problem.

Dinners and supper were served in the vestry by the different Sunday schools of the village.

The vested choir appeared for the first time in their surplices at the convention and led the singing. There were several beautiful solos rendered by Mrs. C. L. Baughart and Frank Pike and a duet by Mrs. Baughart and Mrs. Luella Smiley.

BETHEL.

A Pleasant Incident
The Ladies' Relief Corps of Bethel presented each of the local Sunday schools with a silk U. S. flag, and last Sunday, Dec. 10, Mrs. Kendall, the committee, visited each of the schools while in session and made the presentation in a very happy way with appropriate and patriotic remarks.
In the Universalist Sunday school, the superintendent, Hon. E. C. Park, responded in behalf of the school, and the members of the school extended a hearty vote of thanks. It was a singular coincidence that this was the birthday of the pastor, Rev. J. H. Little, who is State Chaplain of the Department of Maine, G. A. R. He was present and in a few words, fitting the occasion, endorsed the action of the Relief Corps and the school. He has now passed his 68th milestone.

Rev. J. H. Little, chaplain of the Maine State Grange, will be in Lewiston next week attending the annual session of that body.
The water has been drawn out of the new reservoir and has been shut off so that no water will run in this winter from the main pipes. Next summer the whole reservoir will be cemented.

The sleighing is gone though considerable ice remains in the roads, and the warm spell is giving us mud in place of the nice sleighing we had a while ago. Snow is what the lumbermen want and what business is waiting for.

Rev. Mr. Little was called to attend a funeral at Bryant's Pond last week and another at Milton Plantation, Saturday, and another Sunday afternoon, in Bethel, three funerals and a wedding all within five days. Thursday of this week Mr. Little is called to Bowdoinham to attend a funeral service.

Many friends of Rev. J. H. Little remembering that Dec. 10th was his birthday favored him with a "postal shower" of birthday cards. The shower began on the morning of the 9th and continued into the next week. The mementoes came from South Paris, Paris, Norway, Portland and West Swazey, N. H. Mr. Little said he was not aware he had so many friends who were thinking of him when he was out of sight, and wishing for good things to happen to him.

BROWNFIELD.

Nehemiah W. Rice.
Nehemiah W. Rice, whose death occurred at his home on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Dec. 7th, was a native of Brownfield. He was born May 15, 1832, the son of Nehemiah C. and Phoebe Rice. He attended the schools of his native town and later at Gorham and Lewiston, and settled in Portland in 1850.

In 1853 he became a partner in the firm of Tyler, Rice & Sons of which his father and uncle were members. This firm dealt extensively in hides and leather and had large trade in the Argentine Republic in the purchase of hides. In 1866 he moved to Boston, where he formed the firm of N. W. Rice & Co., dealers in leathers. He was one of the original projectors of the United States Leather Company and was one of the principal incorporators of the United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co. Mr. Rice was president of the N. W. Rice Co., a director of the First National Bank, the United States Mining Co., the electric Securities Co., the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., the United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co., and other corporations.

On Nov. 3, 1887, he married Josephine Emery of Portland, who survives him, as does also one son, Charles G. Rice, and one daughter, Annie T. Rice, and a sister, Sara V. Rice.

There are many Incidental Benefits in having a Checking Account in THIS STRONG NATIONAL BANK

It enables you to keep track of your money matters in a systematic way. The entries in your bank book show how much money you have received, and the stubs of your check book and also the cancelled checks returned by the Bank show how much you have paid out and where the money went. In this way this Bank virtually keeps your books for you, and, we may add, few individuals ever succeed in keeping accurate account of their finances in any other way.

The cancelled checks, returned by the Bank each month, are legal receipts for your payments. If you pay in cash you will often fail to get receipts but paying by check automatically gives you an indisputable receipt for every payment and in a form very easy to file for future reference. You also avoid asking for a receipt, which is sometimes, though wrongfully, looked upon as evidence of personal suspicion.

In view of all these advantages can you ignore the need of a bank account for yourself?

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

"We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts, and we want you to substantiate them at our risk."

Reckall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night, do not cause diarrhea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Reckall Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 24 tablets 25 cents and 50 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Remedies in Norway only at our store.—The Reckall Store, F. P. Stone, 143 Main street, Norway, Me.

Colds May be Avoided.

By those who are fortunate enough to always breathe pure air, and never get run down by overwork or exposure. Even these lucky people do not always escape the contagious colds which at certain seasons prevail to such an extent as to be almost epidemic. It is wise to be prepared for troubles of this nature in our climate, and the one all-important thing is to have at hand a safe, efficient and reliable remedy to ward off the trouble and danger of such an attack.

For sixty years, "L. F." Atwood's medicine has been a household remedy for emergencies of this kind. It starts up the liver and bowels, prevents congestion, and restores the functions to their normal condition. If you have never used it, get a bottle from your dealer, or write for a free sample to the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

Cataract and Blood Disease - Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel F. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with cataract and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. HASTINGS.

Injured by Falling Tree.

Last week Thursday while falling a tree at Taylor's camp, Canadian, Montaine by name was severely injured by a broken limb which struck him on the forehead. He was stunned for several moments. Snow applied to wound brought a little relief. His teeth were loosened and two broken.

It was thought best that he be sent to a hospital and so he came to the Opening that afternoon and was taken to Gilead for the train for Berlin. If he is laid up indefinitely he will go to Canada.

John D. Bennett and another hunter, who are staying at Orme Bennett's shot a deer a few days ago.

Everyone is wishing for snow. If the spring weather continues lumber business must be suspended.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Bickford of Auburn have closed their camp on Evans brook and returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Howard Taylor is very ill. Her mother, Mrs. Rosa Griffin of Berlin came Tuesday to care for her. A Bethel physician was called.

Charles Bradford of Norway came to Orme Bennett's last Friday. He reports it "hard hunting" just now, too noisy in the woods. He returned Tuesday. No luck.

Mrs. Hortense Gates and Alma Call walked to Gilead, Friday afternoon. If only they hadn't talked! Deer tracks right along the road and told plainly that a deer had run a long distance just ahead of them, then crossed into the dense woods. Women hunters are seldom lucky.

EAST BROWNFIELD.

A Disastrous Fire.

This village barely escaped a general conflagration early Monday evening when one large wooden building occupied as a merchandise and grain store by J. E. Clements was burned to the ground with a loss of $15,000. Several other buildings were partially damaged.

At about 6 p. m. the flames, the cause of which is unknown, were discovered bursting through the roof of the store. The people bent their efforts to keep the flames from spreading and as a high wind was blowing they were fortunate to hold the damage to other buildings down to a small amount.

Mr. Clements, who owned the burned building and was proprietor of the store, had just installed his holiday stock of goods, and it is scarcely anything except his books. His loss is partially covered by insurance. His house was also damaged to the extent of $200 and William Warren's residence suffered $400 damage from fire and water.

The water supply, stored in the private reservoir of Mr. Clements, which furnishes the inhabitants with water, is far too small for fighting a large fire, and the tank was speedily drained after the fire was turned out by the burning store. Fortunately L. R. Giles & Co. have another water tank and it was possible to connect lines of hose to this.

Trains Wrecked at Snow's Falls.

Early Wednesday morning after the early passenger train had passed here an excursion train with 150 more or less passengers on board went through here and collided with an engine and a passenger car just this side of Snow's Falls. One brakeman, Jabez Cole, who recently moved away from here got his arm injured and several others slightly injured. The conductor jumped and landed in the river otherwise it was a very fortunate wreck.

No lives were lost. The excursion train was pulled back here to await the clearing of the wrecked engines and track. The 9:30 mail train was held here also for the same time.

The special train which consisted of eight cars, including dining, sleeping and baggage cars, was following an hour behind the morning express from Montreal and was due in Portland at about 7:50 a. m. The trucks of two or three of the cars, left the rails, but none of the cars were damaged.

The passengers are among 1,000 passengers that sail from Portland, Tuesday on the Teutonic and Sicilian for Liverpool and Glasgow.

Three trainmen were injured. A number of passengers were severely shaken by the force of the impact, but none of them was hurt. The injured: J. P. Cole, Island Pond, brakeman, arm broken.

Elmer May, Island Pond, brakeman, two ribs broken.

Herbert Aldrich, trainman, face cut.

A New Lighting System.

The I. O. O. F. have just had installed a new lighting system throughout their building called the Sparks' Lighting System which is made by the generation of gas from a gasoline combination which gives a clear white penetrating light that is very desirable.

The citizens of the place want to put in a large three lighted plant with a 2000 candle power, somewhere in the center of the village where it will light the streets to the best advantage and a subscription paper is being circulated to raise the necessary funds.

So far the citizens have responded freely. A street lighting system will be gladly welcomed for all who are at all acquainted with our village knows that it is sadly needed and it is hoped that the necessary funds will be raised and that the "walking street lights," lanterns carried by individuals will cease to be such a necessity.

Helping Our Town

"There is so much bad in the best of us, and so much good in the worst of us, that it hardly behooves any of us, to talk about the rest of us."

These few words carry with them quite a lesson if we would but properly consider them. Do not be a chronic fault finder, continually registering objections to this, that and the other thing.

If you have a legitimate kick, file it; but don't go around looking for trouble. The man who is forever casting about in hopes of discovering something that is not exactly right will probably find more or less at which he can grumble, but in doing so he fails to bring about a remedy.

This applies to every walk of life, and particularly in the conduct of a city. If you are not satisfied with the manner in which your city is being conducted, the remedy lies at the polls.

There are always plenty of good men willing to take on the responsibility of "running the government," and you can do your share toward getting them into office. If they show ability, keep them there, and what is more, help them to make good by doing everything in the power to aid them in producing the right sort of government. There is much in our town for which all the people should be proud.

If a relative comes to see you, tell him what a fine place it is. Do not lay stress on what a town, village or city this would have been if it so happened, or if you had not been elected, or if you could be done with the industrious and of various lines of business conducted within the city.

Show every stranger you are happy and contented; as indeed you should rightly be, and if you possess it, you will soon find that "sour grapes" feeling wearing off, and you will be in a position to meet and greet your fellow man and be welcomed by him, instead of avoided more or less as is the case at the present time.

Objectively point out to your fellow man that you at least have confidence in the future of our town no matter what happens to be elected, and the first thing you know you will find others preaching the same doctrine, and the result will be astonishing.

Of course it's easier to kick for some people, because they're used to it, but they can be lifted out of the rut, and it will be a task worth while. Some people never smile, having been told in their early youth of the great danger of looking down.

The future of any town, village or city depends entirely upon its own people, not the ones who live in other places and our town ten years hence will be exactly what its people make it. You can do your share, and should do it, let all get well into the campaign before the beginning of the new year.

Well Bred?

What is more charming than a well bred girl with the agreeable manners that show social training and a desire to please? Yet there is danger of overdoing even in courtesy.

It is the fashion just now to decry the manners of the present day; to say boys and girls have no bump of reverence and less breeding. This may be true for the boys—there seems to be an alarming increase of cubism—but girls are punctilious almost to a fault.

Manner should be spontaneous, not artificial; to be really pleasing. It should also be tactful. The girl who will charm is not she who is ostentatiously polite, who jumps to her feet with a bound and stands at attention with a smirk of conscious self-satisfaction whenever a woman a few years older than herself appears.

It is polite, a sign of right feeling, to show deference to older women, but many a girl is so painfully deferential to a girl who has been out but four or five more years than herself that it "looks almost like coattiness."

One woman who has been a belle for seven or eight years spoke slightly of one of the season's debutantes. "I thought she was so charming, noted for her good manners," replied a matron.

"Perhaps," was the reply, "but I don't like that kind of manners. She always tries to rub in my eye by her tremendous punctiliousness. I'm sure she does it on purpose, as I overheard her say once, she'd think those old girls would take up charity rather than try to rush society so hard when they were back numbers."

The girl who is rude to her inferiors or to the women she thinks "cut no ice" gains little by her courtesy to those that do. They read her only too plainly, and are disgusted rather than pleased.

Then there is courtesy paid to the right person in apparently the best way that falls short of the mark because of a bored look or a wandering eye. Let a girl rise draggingly from her chair when an older person enters a room, or while apparently listening attentively, gaze around the room on the sly or look blankly into space, and her manners will never make a hit with that person.

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

French-Swan.

The most notable events of the past week were the marriage of DeLeon A. French and Mildred Estelle Swan of Greenwood, and the wedding reception which occurred Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, at the old mansion of the French family, the well known residence of Amos French who is the oldest survivor of the historic Norway family, at the age of 84 years.

Genial weather and a brilliant moonlight witnessed the assembling of a large number of the men, women and youth of Norway at the French family home to manifest their sincere regard for the youthful wedded pair, and bid them good cheer at the new stage they were taking on the journey of life.

The names of the guests of the evening are as follows:

- Mr. and Mrs. George G. Abbott, Stevens M. Abbott, Ethel Abbott, Gladys Abbott, F. G. and Mrs. Clara Dunn, Virgil Dunn, Charles H. Dunn, Edwin B. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Morse, Eva Morse, Anna Morse, Marilda Morse, Fred Pierce, Georgia Pierce, Lindsay Morse, Percy N. Bartlett, Mrs. J. W. Bartlett, Flora Bartlett, Blanch Bartlett, Anna M. Shedd, Eben Marston, Florence Marston, Ruth Marston, Louis Marston, Adna S. Buck, Clifford M. Buck, Lena Buck, Harold F. Merrill, Merl V. Merrill, Rupert H. Merrill.

Don Albert Delano, Katherine Delano, Carroll Delano, Geo. L. Greenleaf, Elaine A. Greenleaf, Carroll R. Greenleaf, Mary C. Cobb, Ruth Cobb, Ada Bobbs, Harold C. Pollock, Arthur M. Messerve, A. D. Kilgore, Carl F. Upton, E. G. Farnum, H. I. Holt, Carleton S. Cox, Augusta French.

Members of the home family present were: Amos French, the octogenarian grandfather, Chester G. French and wife, Mrs. Isabel (Morey) French, parents of the groom, DeLeon French and wife, Mrs. Mildred Estelle French, nee Swan, Pearl C., Mildred E., Chester G., Jr., Adelaide E., Madeline, Helen and Edna, Mae 3 months old, the 8th of and unbroken succession of boys and girls worthy of the admiration and pride of every citizen of the old town.

Immediate relatives present were: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Flint (Angie French) and daughter; Dorothy, Arthur Kingman and wife, Marjorie (Adams) Kingman of South Waterford. Others present were Granville Fernald of South Waterford and C. D. Haley of Boston as guests of the family. This three-score and upwards of the sober gentry of the Chapel and other neighborhoods found their natural entertainment in a routine of pleasant mutual greeting and "exchanges" of social compliments by a choice number of selections played by the Edison graphophone under the direction of Mr. Haley, followed by French home orchestra, composed of: Chester G. French, Sr., 1st violin; Pearl C., 1st cornet; Mildred E., daughter of Mr. French, 2d cornet; and Leggo, barytone horn, assisted by Mr. Fernald, 2d violin.

Near the close of the evening refreshments were served consisting of nuts and light confections and some fine cigars for the gentlemen guests.

Was that all? No. Could you expect a company of gay young men and maidens of this generation to dissolve such a meeting without some exercise of their social gifts? So, of course the fine old game of "Trip the Willow," which was nearly like a quiet contra dance of the olden time, as it had to be accompanied by Sully's Joy and The Girl I Love Behind Me played on the old-fashioned fiddle by an old-fashioned fiddler. That part of the festivities ended the very enjoyable celebration.

The gifts to the newly wedded pair were numerous and elegant in quality and were as follows:

- Rocking chair—Mr. and Mrs. C. G. French. Rooking chair—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Flint. Comforter—Mrs. C. G. French. Tablespoons—Willis A. French. Table mats—Mildred French. Set teaspoons—Amelia French. Save Your Newspapers.

Here are some uses for newspapers—
1.—Dampen several newspapers and pull into bits. Strew them about on the carpet to be swept. You will find a large percent of the dust and all the dirt will be collected by these damp shreds of paper in the usual manner of sweeping.
2.—Large squares of newspapers opened and sprinkled with water, placed over furniture left in a room being swept, will catch much dust, and are easily removed after sweeping.
3.—Newspapers are always good to kindle the fires.
4.—Several layers of newspapers make a warm and economical covering and padding under a carpet.
5.—Wood and kindling baskets sift dirt and little chips over the stairs and the kitchen floor unless lined with a folded newspaper on the bottom.
6.—Vegetable boxes in the dark cellar are easily cleaned by the removal of a newspaper, if this has been its lining.
7.—Newspapers spread on the washroom floor will catch all the splashing and when removed a clean, dry floor remains.
8.—Newspapers opened and spread over preserve jars, keep out the light and prevent dust from settling on the glass covers.
9.—An open newspaper laid over the ice in the chest will prevent its melting so rapidly.
10.—Several thicknesses of newspapers put between the top coverings of a bed across the foot will keep out much cold, especially when one sleeps out of doors or near an open window.

Buttermilk.

Doctors tell us that fresh buttermilk is a better food and even a better tonic than anything put up by a druggist. Some physicians go so far as to say that there is no case of indigestion or stomach trouble which can't be cured by it, provided its use is continued and ordinary care is used as to the selection of the rest of the diet. It is a hearty food and two glasses a day are enough for any one. If they are not drunk at meals they should not be partaken of within at least two hours of any meal. It takes over an hour for it to digest thoroughly, and if more food is put into the stomach before it has disposed of what is already there with a little time besides in which to rest, more harm is done than good. Really, the best time to drink it is with the meals, although it makes a refreshing lunch between meals, and its mild acid acts beneficially on all the juices of the stomach. It is the same acid which has such an excellent effect on tanned, freckled and sunburned skins and it bleaches at the same time that the skin is cooled and the farm and far more beneficial than the lotions and creams the city women must depend on.
As a bleach for linen it is fine, and also to remove mildew. The goods must be dipped in till thoroughly wet, then spread on the grass in the hot sun. Repeat as often as necessary.

Letter Etiquette.

The etiquette of letter writing is a question of interest to many.
A formal note is, literally speaking, a note written in the third person. Such notes are sent in reply to formal invitations and should be carefully worded. You should not say "James Wilson regrets," "at he cannot accept your kind invitation." You should say "James Wilson regrets that a previous engagement will prevent his accepting Mrs. Alonzo Smith's kind invitation."
A note written informally and in the first person should be answered in kind, although to a certain degree of formality is implied by beginning the note, "My dear Mrs. Jones." "Dear Mrs. Jones," being considered more friendly and unceremonious, for some reason.
Some find it very difficult to wind up a note gracefully. This ought not to be the case unless you permit yourself to feel self-conscious in writing a note. Try to remember only that you are accepting an invitation with a great deal of pleasure, or declining me with a great deal of regret. Try to throw yourself into the writing of these few lines and you will end by inditing a very charming letter.
Remember, "Sentimental Tommie," who is writing a letter of condolence for a friend over the death of some one he had never known wept real tears himself. The secret of good note as well as good letter writing is to eliminate every particle of self-consciousness from it. Make a letter simple and natural and you have conquered half the battle.
Business letters are often the stumbling block of many young men. Many, undated, improperly addressed and jumbled business letters come from women who ought to know better. The business letter should be dated in the upper right hand corner. On the left hand side should be written the name and address of the firm or person to whom it is written. It should begin, "Dear Sir," "Gentlemen," "Dear Madam," or "Messdames," according to the name of the firm.
It should plunge at once into the subject without any preamble or personalities and state in as few words as possible and as concisely and clearly as the power of the writer permit what is desired. The ending of a business letter is as important as the beginning. No matter who or what you are, sign your name and nothing more. Thus—"Yours very truly," or "Yours sincerely, Mary Gordon Brown."
If you wish to indicate your married name, write it under your signature in brackets—"Mrs. James Brown."
It is a good idea in writing a business letter to put your full name and address in the left hand corner of the letter.
Now, as to stationery, it is not considered good form to use tinted letter paper unless it is such inconspicuous shades as gray blue or gray. White and cream color are most in use.
The address or monogram, if not used, is stamped on the coat of arms, is stamped at the top of the first sheet in black, dark blue or dark green. The crest or heraldic device may be in gilt or silver. Letter paper should not be perfumed and ink should be black or very dark blue. Use of purple ink or ink of any other color is not considered in good taste.

An Ideal Sick Room.

When a house is to be built the family devotes months of thought to planning the billiard room, the music room and all sorts of hat and shoe closets, but seldom do we hear of a house, no matter how pretentious, with a room specially planned for sickness. The result of this neglect is that many a mild case which could just as well be cared for at home by a competent nurse, if she had the proper facilities, has to be sent to the hospital.
A far-seeing young woman, who is at present superintending the erection of a house, has planned a sick room on the third floor. This room is to be a spacious place, with a southern exposure, thus insuring good ventilation and plenty of sunshine. It will have polished floors and walls of hard plaster, tinted or painted a soft green, which is restful to the eyes, and this finish will be such as to permit a thorough washing of the walls after infection's disease. The corners will all be rounded, so as to provide no hiding places for germs. The room will naturally be furnished in a simple, sanitary way. There will be an iron bed, with a similar cot for the nurse, a white dresser, a white enamel table and two or three white chairs. Pictures and draperies will be banned, and there will be no unnecessary what-
Adjoining the room will be a bathroom, and in an adjacent closet the doctor and nurse will be able to find all sorts of pitchers, jars, basins, measuring glasses, thermometers, hot water bags, bandages, gauze, plain towels, green soap and disinfectants.

Encouragement for Newly Weds.

Thomas A. Edison, who recently startled the world by saying he could make it possible to build a concrete house for $1,000, went further today, and declared that in the near future he would put on the market concrete furniture, and that newlyweds, instead of adorning their homes on the installment plan with $450 worth of dubious chairs, tables, etc., can invest $280 and rival "palatial residences" with their display.
Pieces of furniture made in the new way are on their way to Chicago and back to show what they can stand in the way of resisting handling by freight men. At present the weight of the concrete furniture is about 33 1/2 per cent. greater than wood, but Edison expects to reduce the excess to 25 per cent.
"If I couldn't put out my concrete furniture cheaper than the oak that comes from Grand Rapids," said Mr. Edison today, "I wouldn't go into the business. If a newlywed say now starts out with $450 worth of furniture on the installment plan, I feel confident that we can give him more artistic and more durable furniture for $200. I'll also be able to put out a whole bedroom set for $6 or $6."

Round Mt. Grange fair and sale held at the hall, Friday afternoon and evening proved a success in every way. The things in the hall were prettily arranged and the booths were well filled with things for sale, and well patronized. We understand the net proceeds were some $600. It was somewhat over sixty dollars. It was somewhat amusing to see how carefully some of the things had paid five or ten cents with the understanding that there was a fifty or twenty-five-cent piece in one piece of each cake sold. Perhaps they were afraid they would break their false teeth or swallow the coin.
